

Garrett Borton, owner of Renegade Paint and Pipes for the past 15 years, is a lifelong resident of Weston County. His grandpa Clete Highland, also a lifelong resident served our community as the City Shop Supervisor here in Newcastle. Even further back in 1902, Garrett's great grandpa John Toth was born in Cambria. His great grandpa Borton homesteaded north of Jay Em just south of Weston County establishing deep roots on both sides of his family tree.

Although he carries great pride in his roots, his true passion lies in the future he has prepared for here in Weston County. That future includes his wife Holly and their girls Braylee and Carlee, both of which attend the Newcastle Elementary School.

Garrett is already committed to bettering our community in numerous ways including serving on the board of:

- Newcastle Area Chamber of Commerce
- Mondell Field Airport

As well as being involved with:

- Concerned Citizens of Weston County
- Weston County Sherriff's Posse

Dedicating time to:

- RPM Days, being a founding member, seven years in and going strong
- Weston County Fair Renegade Mud Bogs for several years
- Chamber events such as the Lighted Parade, Pig Wrestling, and the Annual Banquet
- Shine and Show Car Show involvement and support
- Initiated a weekly car cruise in an effort to connect our community in an encouraged social distancing atmosphere.

Garrett's decision to run for a seat as a Weston County Commissioner is driven by concerns arising from the current political environment from Federal to County issues. Choosing to be a part of the solution. A few of the areas of concern:

- Government Over Reach
- Unconstitutional Government Activity
- Budget Concerns and Sustainability
- Public School Mandates

Garrett will fight for what is right and just, as he did when he filed for a Declaratory Judgement against a sitting Weston County Commissioner that chose to move out of our county while refusing to resign his position. He firmly believes in communicating and working towards resolutions.

Garrett Borton's heart, family and livelihood are solidly planted in Weston County, the future of all these are tied together and equally dependent on God and the betterment of Weston County, two things Garrett will serve Faithfully.
