

FAITH ★ FAMILY ★ FREEDOM ★ SERVICE

*Rooted in Wyoming.
Committed to Our Future.*

I am a lifelong believer in faith, family, freedom, and service. As the wife of a U.S. Army veteran, mother of eleven, grandmother, and homeschooling parent, I believe in personal responsibility, hard work, and the values that have strengthened American communities for generations.

Service has always been an important part of my life. In Weston County, I have served with the Right to Life Board, Newcastle Community Bell Choir Board, Community Cantata Board, Republican Women of Weston County, Newcastle Housing Authority Board, VFW Auxiliary 2516, the Weston County Republican Party, and Gigi's Closet. I also serve local organizations as a Secretary, Treasurer, and board member. These roles have reinforced my belief that public trust is earned through honesty, accountability, and consistent service.

Making Wyoming home deepened my appreciation for agriculture, private property and water rights, responsible land stewardship, and the independent spirit that defines our state. I believe in limited government, fiscal responsibility, constitutional rights, local control, election integrity, secure borders, protecting life, and defending our God-given liberties.

I want to preserve Wyoming's rural way of life while supporting responsible opportunities that strengthen our communities and respect our natural resources. Wyoming citizens should come first, and the heritage entrusted to us should be protected for future generations.

I believe informed citizens build stronger communities. I will research the issues, ask hard questions, listen respectfully, and remain grounded in facts and the Constitution. My goal is simple: leave my community stronger than I found it and help preserve the freedoms and Wyoming values we pass on to the next generation.
